Getting through to you takes all I can do
There's something to tell you but it blows right through
Check for the reasons behind all this aggravation
Can't find a clue as I look for the information

You turn to me and say I know what's right
Been through it all and I know what's right
Why take that point of view when you know what's right

Head on Headstrong deep into your thought
You keep thinking you have the answers
Head on Headstrong as soon as you are caught
Thinking along the same lines

You're living for yourself you do what you want to do
Stuck on believing everything you say is true
Walking a thin line rely too much on intuition
The ropes gonna snap with the weight of your conviction

You turn to me and say I know what's right
Been through it all and I know what's right
Why take that point of view when you know what's right

Head on Headstrong deep into your thought
You keep thinking you have the answers
Head on Headstrong as soon as you are caught
Thinking along the same lines

You turn to me and say I know what's right
Been through it all and I know what's right
Why take that point of view when you know what's right

Head on Headstrong deep into your thought
You keep thinking you have the answers
Head on Headstrong as soon as you are caught
Thinking along the same lines

Head on Headstrong deep into your thought
You keep thinking you have the answers
Head on Headstrong as soon as you are caught
Thinking along the same lines
